

The Drainage Officer on site believes that the outlet from the depot discharges to an unnamed ditch that joins with other ditches that run from the golf club. They eventually join up with the Nant y Wilcae to the south. The ditches do run dry and are seasonal but he thinks the Nant y Wilcae is always running.