Dear Mr Pink,

Returning the site to compliance with its environmental permit

We recently identified a non-compliance with Sensient's environmental permit. Failure to comply with a permit condition is an offence and it is important that Sensient resolve this problem as soon as possible. During recent discussions Sensient proposed to take steps to return its activity to compliance that we consider reasonable.

We record all breaches of permit conditions on our Compliance Classification Scheme (CCS) database. These records contribute to an annual compliance rating that affects your annual subsistence charge (see our OPRA guidance at <http://naturalresources.wales/how-we-regulate-you/how-we-assess-business-compliance/?lang=en> for full details.)

While these steps are undertaken we will continue to record your site as non-compliant on our CCS database. However, we are prepared to 'suspend' these ongoing permit breaches so that they do not count toward Sensient's annual compliance rating.

Please complete and return the attached Action Plan specifying the proposed actions with appropriate completion dates. Sensient's proposals should be clearly set out and achievable. Once we agree with your proposals and timescales for action then we will suspend non-compliances from that point until 31 July 2017. However, we reserve the right to cancel the suspension and count all permit non-compliances toward your compliance rating should you fail to follow the actions specified or should you cause pollution to the environment.

If you have any queries or concerns please contact me on 03000 653263.

Yours sincerely,

Nick Jenkins
PPC Officer
