Introductory note

This introductory note does not form a part of the notice.

The following notice gives notice of the variation and consolidation of an environmental permit.

This permit adds a new Effluent Treatment System that will treat all process and foul effluent prior to discharging to the environment. A number of permit changes were also made to better reflect the operations on-site. The permit has been consolidated.

The schedules specify the changes made to the permit.

The status log of a permit sets out the permitting history, including any changes to the permit reference number.
