Introductory note

This introductory note does not form a part of the notice.

The following notice gives notice of the variation and consolidation of an environmental permit.

Part of the installation is being redeveloped. This section lies to the east of Afon Erch. Renewed area will have a new drainage system, new insulation, new flooring and walls. Renewed factory unit will house a new cheese production plant which will replace plant sited on the western part of the site. Cream, a by-product of the separation of cheese processing milk prior to pasteurisation is used for butter making in a re vamped area of the factory as part of the new developments occurring on-site and will mainly use existing equipment which will be relocated to part of the new facility.

Cheese manufacturing takes place in a new development placed on the eastern section of the site. The cheese production plant will consist of four vats and associated cutting tables and ancillary equipment. The new vats are larger and will have a faster production cycle in comparison to the existing plant; therefore production levels can be maintained. Due to the redeveloping of the site a consolidated permit has been issued

The schedules specify the changes made to the permit.

The status log of a permit sets out the permitting history, including any changes to the permit reference number.
