What the law says

The Environmental Permitting (England and Wales) Regulations 2010.(S.I.2010 No.675) say -

Regulations 48(1) & (2)

The regulator must exclude information from a public register if it considers that the information may be confidential information, or receives notice that you consider the information to be confidential and you have provided reasons for that view. Except when it has been determined that the information should be included on the register. Note that the Secretary of State or the Welsh Ministers can give direction as to information which must be included in the public register even if it may be confidential.

Regulation 49(1)

Where the regulator receives information that it considers may be confidential, it must give notice of that view to the person the information is about. This person is known as the information subject. The information subject may within 15 working days give notice consenting or objecting to the inclusion of the information on the register. If an objection is made you must give the reasons for this view.

Regulations 51(1), (2), (3) & (4)

When making a confidentiality determination the regulator must comply with the conditions detailed in this regulation.

Regulation 52(1)

The regulator has 20 working days, or any such longer period that may be agreed with you, to give you notice of its determination. If we fail to give notice within 20 working days (or other agreed period), you can notify us in writing that we are deemed to have determined that the information must be included on the public register. You then have the right of appeal.

Regulation 53(1)

You may give notice of appeal to the Secretary of State or the Welsh Ministers within 15 working days after the regulator has made a determination under regulation 51.

Regulations 55(1) & (2)

Any information that is determined to be confidential remains so for a period of 4 years or any shorter period specified in the decision. You must make a further application at that time, if you believe the information remains confidential information and should be withheld from the public registers.

Your right to appeal

You have a right to appeal against this decision to the Welsh Ministers for Wales. You must do this within 15 days of the date of the notice of refusal.

Appeals must be made in writing to:

Welsh Ministers
Environmental Protection Division
Crown Buildings
Cathays Park
Cardiff
CF10 3NQ
Tel: 029 2082 3866
E-Mail: wales@pins.gsi.gov.uk
<http://www.planningportal.gov.uk/planning/appeals>

The notice of appeal must contain or be accompanied by;

- a statement of the grounds of appeal; and
- a statement indicating whether the appellant wishes the appeal to be in the form of a hearing or to be disposed of on the basis of written representations.

If you appeal, you must send us;

- a copy of your appeal notice;
- a statement of your grounds of appeal; and
- a statement indicating whether the appellant wishes the appeal to be in the form of a hearing or to be disposed of on the basis of written representations.

You can withdraw your appeal by notifying the Welsh Ministers in writing and copying your notification to us.

Please refer to the regulations for details of the appeal process.

Note:

In this document 'Natural Resources Wales' means the Natural Resources Body for Wales established by Article 3 of the Natural Resources Body for Wales (Establishment) Order 2012.

You should note that the Natural Resources Body for Wales has been formed by bringing together the Countryside Council for Wales, Forestry Commission Wales and Environment Agency Wales. The Natural Resources Body for Wales has been empowered to exercise Welsh devolved functions since 1st April 2013 and has, generally, taken over the responsibilities of the Countryside Council for Wales, the Forestry Commissioners and the Environment Agency in Wales.
