Introductory note

This introductory note does not form a part of the notice.

The following notice gives notice of the variation and consolidation of an environmental permit.

Biomass UK No.2 Ltd has applied to vary the existing environmental permit under The Environmental Permitting (England and Wales) Regulations 2016 (as amended) to change the monitoring method for hydrogen fluoride (as specified in Schedule 3, Table S3.1) from 'continuous' to 'periodic' in accordance with the provisions in the Industrial Emissions Directive (IED) Annex VI Part 6 (2.3).

IED Annex VI Part 6 (2.3) allows the replacement of continuous hydrogen fluoride emission monitoring with periodic monitoring provided that the acid gas abatement systems used by the plant ensure that the hydrogen chloride emission limit value is not exceeded. The flue gas treatment systems installed at the Biomass No.2 UK plant will ensure that hydrogen chloride emission limits are met, and continuous hydrogen chloride monitoring will be carried out to demonstrate this. Periodic hydrogen fluoride monitoring will be undertaken using the appropriate international standard on a quarterly frequency for the first year of operation and then every 6 months.

The half hourly and daily average emission limit values originally included in the permit requiring compliance demonstration using continuous monitoring have been replaced with a single periodic emission limit that provides the same high level of environmental protection.

The status log of a permit sets out the permitting history, including any changes to the permit reference number.
