Introductory note

This introductory note does not form a part of the notice

The following notice gives notice of the variation of an environmental permit.

This variation notice has been issued to reflect the fact that the company's registered name has changed from Tarmac Cement and Lime Limited to Tarmac Cement Limited. There is no change in legal entity and company number remains the same.

The status log of a permit sets out the permitting history, including any changes to the permit reference number.
