4. Details of our assessment

In response to CAR_NRW0043886, Action - Investigate what is causing the fungal growth and carry out repairs if needed, DCWW have advised that the investigation into potential waste sources and fungal growth on-site was conducted. The process science technician performed a series of checks on the water flow observed during the site visit. Their tests found no ammonia present in the samples (image below), leading to the conclusion that the water is surface runoff from the nearby fields.

Thankyou for looking into this. We are satisfied that the actions for CAR_NRW0043886 are now complete.
