Tell us about the work

What is the project title?

Llanbedrog Beach, movement of sand

Briefly describe what you want to do

Last year, one of my colleagues contacted NRW for a SSSI consent to move sand from National Trust owned land at Llanbedrog beach to another part of the beach to support the iconic beach huts, after the sand was washed away during a storm event, and needed to be put back to make the huts safe for use again.

We have contacted the SSSI team for permission for this work again which has been granted.

This year, we believe sand will be required from other parts of the beach below Mean High Water Springs and we are in discussions with the Crown Estate regarding their permission for this.

My colleagues on the ground advise that 500-600 tonnes of sand may need to be moved.
