4. Details of our assessment

Thank you for your time during the permit site inspection.

INTERCEPTORS

Interceptors around car wash areas and the forecourt were visually inspected. It was noted that the interceptors' holding tank is quite large (details of the size is unknown). Various part of the interceptor system are emptied annually with consignment notes received and kept on file. All interceptors visible parts were in good working order with no issues observed during the inspection.

SAMPLE POINT

The permit holder was aware of the location of the sample point. Unfortunately, a scrap car was located on top of the sample point, hence, it was impossible to open the sample point cover for inspection. Additionally, access to sampling point was impossible if there was an immediate check required.

DISCHARGE POINT

The area of the discharge point was known by the permit holder, however, the actual pipe could not be seen as it was on the same side of the stream that we stood. There were some slight overgrowth in the area - the permit holder noted they were going to clear the overgrowth to find the exact location of the discharge pipe. The permit holder did ask if it would be worth undertaking regular checks of the stream to ensure all was working well at the site - it was confirmed that this would be good practice, however, it is not required by the permit. The permit holder did ask for information on what signs to look out for in the stream during their voluntary regular checks.

NON-COMPLIANCE

Condition 1.3 Sample Point Requirements: Arrange for the removal of the vehicle restricting access to the sampling point as soon as practicably possible. Ensure continuous access to the sampling point. This could be done by placing a barrier and signage to stop vehicles and other items placed in the area.

OBSERVATION

Clear the overgrowth at the discharge point.

The permit holder did ask if it was possible for them to receive their annual permit invoices by e-mail rather than by post. Since the site inspection, it has been confirmed that this is possible and the site's records kept by NRW will be updated to reflect this request.

Thank you again for your co-operation during this permit site inspection.
