Introductory note

This introductory note does not form a part of the notice.

The following notice gives notice of the variation and consolidation of an environmental permit.

Dolidre Farm currently consists of three poultry houses for the production of 140,000 broilers. This variation will allow the operator to increase the production to 280,000 broiler birds in six sheds and will add an additional biomass boiler. There will be a total of four biomass boilers on site.

Air scrubbing units being placed on four of the sheds to aid in reducing ammonia emissions from the installation.

The schedules specify the changes made to the permit.

The status log of a permit sets out the permitting history, including any changes to the permit reference number.
