At this time, we do not intend to take any further action.

This statement does not stop us from taking additional enforcement action if further relevant information comes to light or offences continue.

4. Details of our assessment

On 31st of July 2020, Natural Resources Wales received an anonymous report of final effluent bubbling up on Fairbourne Beach below mean high tide. The effluent bubbling up was confirmed to be treated, however as the WWTW was now discharging in a location not listed under Condition 2(c) of the permit this is a breach and an offence under Regulation 38(2) the Environmental Permitting Regulations 2016.

The area of the fracture was identified and successfully repaired by the 4th of August.

As it is unlikely that this offence had any environmental impact as the effluent was treated to the required standard, advice and guidance will be issued as the enforcement response.

Important information

Legal status of this report

Your permit is issued to you under the Environmental Permitting Regulations. You have a responsibility to comply with the conditions of your permit and prevent pollution/harm to the environment. You must also ensure that you comply with any other relevant legislation that may apply to your site's operations.

This report explains the findings of our assessment and any action you are required to take. We categorise non-compliance using our guidance for assessing non-compliance at regulated sites.

When we find potential non-compliance/s we will normally give you advice on how to maintain compliance.

To correct non-compliance, we may:

- require you to take specific actions
- issue a notice
- review the conditions of your permit.

Any advice and guidance we give will be without prejudice to any other enforcement response that we consider may be required.

Assessment results and non-compliance categories (used in section 1):

C4 No environmental impact	Non-compliance at a regulated site that cannot foreseeably have any impact on the environment, people and/or property

If your assessment result in Section 1 is suspended, what does this mean?
