Schedule

Due to the nature of the discharge, NRW requires an H1 groundwater risk assessment to be undertaken to assess the risk to groundwater from the discharge. This is because we have concerns regarding the trade element of the discharge which comprises the wash down water from the breeding chambers which can hold 29,950 birds. Ammonia and phosphate from the trade discharge are the main substances of concern.

The link below will direct you to the Environment Agency's H1 guidance and necessary tools to carry out the risk assessment.
