Introductory note

This introductory note does not form a part of the notice.

The following notice gives notice of the variation and consolidation of an environmental permit.

This variation and consolidation seeks to add two emission points to air (EP18 and EP19) as a result of installing two new extraction tanks into the production process. The two new emissions points will serve the same function as the existing extraction tank emission points i.e. to vent hot water vapour/steam into the atmosphere, monitoring of these emissions is not required under the Permit.

The schedules specify the changes made to the permit.

The status log of a permit sets out the permitting history, including any changes to the permit reference number.
