Introductory note

This introductory note does not form a part of the notice.

The following notice gives notice of the variation and consolidation of an environmental permit.

This variation consolidates previous variations, updating the permit into a new format. It also updates the several of the monitoring and reporting schedules in line with changes requested by the operator and with best practice.

The schedules specify the changes made to the permit.

The status log of a permit sets out the permitting history, including any changes to the permit reference number.
