Hi Rebecca

Thanks for your feedback, we can confirm that the next round of soil sampling will be carried out this year. In an attempt to replicate environmental conditions of the last round of sampling we shall arrange for the testing to be carried out in autumn 2017.

Subject: Soil Monitoring

Dear Paula and Gavin,

Thank you for forwarding your consultant's remarks.

I have already addressed the matter of the three year old email. This was sent to another operator, long before the BREF Conclusions were published or the Regulation 60 Notices issued.

The 10 year timespan is a maximum between tests. A 20 year time gap is neither reasonable nor within the spirit of the legislation, especially since such a high level of soil contamination was recorded at two boreholes during the previous round of monitoring. It is not for me to comment on other sites as I am not familiar with their data or situation. Each site, whatever its activity, will be assessed and regulated according to the risks posed to the environment and human health.

The reliability or acceptability of previous data is not under question. However, given lead contamination levels of 13% (130,000mg/Kg), it would seem prudent to determine whether this concentration has changed over the last 10 years. If the level were confirmed then EnerSys have the option to take mitigating action now which may not be feasible or so affordable 10 years from now.

Please feel free to contact me to discuss the matter further.

Kind regards,

Rebecca.
