Introductory note

This introductory note does not form a part of the notice.

The following notice gives notice of the variation and consolidation of an environmental permit.

This variation adds the slaughtering of bovine animals to the existing list of permitted animals, with associated construction of new building and associated changes to infrastructure and operations. There are no changes to emissions or emission limits.

The schedules specify the changes made to the permit.

The status log of a permit sets out the permitting history, including any changes to the permit reference number.
