Schedule 5 - Notification

These pages outline the information that the operator must provide.

Units of measurement used in information supplied under Part A and B requirements shall be appropriate to the circumstances of the emission. Where appropriate, a comparison should be made of actual emissions and authorised emission limits.

If any information is considered commercially confidential, it should be separated from non-confidential information, supplied on a separate sheet and accompanied by an application for commercial confidentiality under the provisions of the EP Regulations.

There were no engineering delays that could have attributed to the emissions. There was a 5 minute trimming delay which meant the furnace was open for a short period before power was applied to melt the scrap.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           |

Schedule 5 - Notification

These pages outline the information that the operator must provide.

Units of measurement used in information supplied under Part A and B requirements shall be appropriate to the circumstances of the emission. Where appropriate, a comparison should be made of actual emissions and authorised emission limits.

If any information is considered commercially confidential, it should be separated from non-confidential information, supplied on a separate sheet and accompanied by an application for commercial confidentiality under the provisions of the EP Regulations.

There were no engineering delays that could have attributed to the emissions. Water leaks in the extraction duct were identified and repaired immediately to prevent any further impact on CO combustion. The frequency of maintenance checks on the extraction duct has been increased to prevent a reoccurrence.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |

Schedule 5 - Notification

These pages outline the information that the operator must provide.

Units of measurement used in information supplied under Part A and B requirements shall be appropriate to the circumstances of the emission. Where appropriate, a comparison should be made of actual emissions and authorised emission limits.

If any information is considered commercially confidential, it should be separated from non-confidential information, supplied on a separate sheet and accompanied by an application for commercial confidentiality under the provisions of the EP Regulations.

| Any more accurate information on the matters for notification under Part A.                                                                            | The process was operating normally with no plant failures. There were no engineering delays that could have attributed to the emissions. Water leaks in the extraction duct were identified and repaired immediately to prevent any further impact on CO combustion. The frequency of maintenance checks on the extraction duct has been increased to prevent a reoccurrence.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |

Schedule 5 - Notification

These pages outline the information that the operator must provide.

Units of measurement used in information supplied under Part A and B requirements shall be appropriate to the circumstances of the emission. Where appropriate, a comparison should be made of actual emissions and authorised emission limits.

If any information is considered commercially confidential, it should be separated from non-confidential information, supplied on a separate sheet and accompanied by an application for commercial confidentiality under the provisions of the EP Regulations.

| Any more accurate information on the matters for notification under Part A.                                                                            | The process was operating normally with no plant failures. High carbon levels were recorded in the melts, this required treatment by addition of oxygen to reduce the carbon levels. There were no engineering delays that could have attributed to the emissions. Additionally, a 4 minute and 8 minute trimming delay was experienced between 12.59-13.59 and 14.59-15.59 due to the scrap density. This meant the furnace was open for a short period before power was applied to melt the scrap.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           |
