

Schedule 5 - Notification

These pages outline the information that the operator must provide.

Units of measurement used in information supplied under Part A and B requirements shall be appropriate to the circumstances of the emission. Where appropriate, a comparison should be made of actual emissions and authorised emission limits.

If any information is considered commercially confidential, it should be separated from non-confidential information, supplied on a separate sheet and accompanied by an application for commercial confidentiality under the provisions of the EP Regulations.

| Any more accurate information on the matters for notification under Part A.                                                                            | The process was operating normally with no plant failures. There were no engineering delays that could have attributed to the emissions. There was a 5 minutes trimming delay during the 01.59-02.59 melt which meant the furnace was open for a short period before power was applied to melt the scrap. High phosphorus levels were recorded in the 04.59-05.59 melt, this required treatment by addition of carbon and oxygen to reduce the phosphorus levels.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |
