Introductory note

This introductory note does not form a part of the notice

The following notice gives notice of the variation of an environmental permit.

This variation notice has been issued by Natural Resources Wales to reflect a change to the permit reference number. This administrative variation is issued to confirm that the permit number is now EPR/DP3195LV and replaces the number stated in the transfer notice issued on 1st July 2015. This administrative variation does not change the content of the actual permit, it updates the permit reference number to EPR/DP3195LV only.

The status log of a permit sets out the permitting history, including any changes to the permit reference number.
