Introductory note

This introductory note does not form a part of the notice

The following notice gives notice of the variation of an environmental permit.

Schedule 1 of the Environmental Permitting Regulations was updated by the Environmental Permitting (England and Wales) (Amendment) Regulations 2013 to reflect the implementation of the Industrial Emissions Directive (IED) into England and Wales. Following this, Natural Resources Wales has varied Table 1.1 of the permit to include limits which the operator must operate below to remain a waste facility, resulting from the introduction of the Industrial Emissions Directive.

The title name of the permit holder has been officially changed to that of the “City and County of Swansea Council” and the site is now known as a Household Waste Recycling Centre (HWRC) and has been amended as such.

The site technically has the capacity to operate above the threshold limits detailed within the IED, specifically S5.6A(1)(a), temporary storage of hazardous waste with a total capacity exceeding 50 tonnes, however, they have chosen to put physical measures in place to operate below the threshold to remain permitted as a waste facility. Therefore, Natural Resources Wales has included these physical limits within the permit to incorporate them as an enforceable permit condition.

The schedules specify the changes made to the original permit.

The status log of a permit sets out the permitting history, including any changes to the permit reference number.
