Introductory note

This introductory note does not form a part of the licence

This licence permits the holder to operate a Waste Transfer Station with waste treatment for inert and excavation wastes at the specified location. The inputs do not include hazardous wastes such as asbestos. Wastes of similar types will be transferred into larger containers and sent to other waste facilities for further treatment, recovery or disposal. Wastes can be bulked up for disposal or recovery elsewhere and also can be treated by sorting, separation, screening and crushing of waste. This licence does not permit the burning of any wastes, either in the open, inside buildings or in any form of incinerator.

This is a fixed licence that can be issued provided that the following criteria are met. The same conditions are applied to each licence holder carrying out this activity.

- a. The quantity of waste that can be accepted onto the site is less than 25,000 tonnes per annum.
- b. Inert wastes must be stored on hard standing or on an impermeable surface with sealed drainage.
- c. The only discharges to controlled waters are surface water from the roofs of buildings and from areas of the site not used for the storage of wastes.
- d. The location is not within 500m of a European site (protected habitat).

This licence does not allow any emission into surface waters or groundwater. However:

- Liquids may be discharged into a sewer subject to a consent issued by the sewerage undertaker.
- Liquids may be tankered off-site for disposal or recovery.
- Clean surface water from roofs, or from areas of the site that are not being used in connection with the storage and treatment of waste, may be discharged directly to surface waters, or to groundwater by percolation through the soil via a soakaway.

Operational requirements specified in regulations

Some aspects of the activity are not controlled by the conditions of this licence, because the controls are specified in the Waste Management Licensing Regulations (WML) Regulations¹, or other legislation. These include:

- Regulation 4 of the WML Regulations describes the qualifications required by a technically competent person at a waste management facility.
- Section 33 (1)(c) of the Environment Protection Act 1990 prohibits the treating, keeping or disposal of controlled waste in a manner which causes or is likely to cause pollution of the environment or harm to human health.
- Section 85 of the Water Resources Act 1991 under which it is an offence to cause or knowingly permit polluting matter to enter controlled waters, (which include both surface and groundwaters), unless the emission is specifically allowed in a licence.
- The Oil Storage Regulations² require oil storage tanks to be bunded.

Public Registers

The public registers in Environment Agency offices contain information relating to licences including the application and monitoring results. Certain information may be withheld from public registers where it is commercially confidential or contrary to national security. Some information is also available on the Environment Agency's website (see below).

Appeals against the conditions in the licence

The licence holder may appeal to the Secretary of State against any of the conditions imposed by this licence, within 6 months of the date of issue.

Licence modifications, transfers and surrender

The Environment Agency may modify the conditions of this licence in the future. If the licence holder wishes to modify the conditions, transfer the licence to another person or surrender the licence then he must submit an application to the Environment Agency.

Other permits at this location

There may be other environmental permits at this location, issued to different operators/licence holders or to the same operator/licence holder for different activities. There may also be permits issued by another regulator such as the local authority. For information on any other Environment Agency-issued permits please contact the Environment Agency (see below).

This waste management licence does not remove the licence holder or operator from their obligations under any other legislation.

Key Points for Consideration of Completed Decision Document

Application for a new licence

The decision document for a new licence should demonstrate that the following requirements of the Act have been met:

- the licence holder will be a Fit and Proper Person, and
- will be in occupation of the licensed area (in the case of a site licence), or
- will be the operator of the plant (in the case of a mobile plant licence), and
- that the proposed use of the land has the benefit of an appropriate planning permission (where required), and
- that the activities, if conducted in accordance with licence conditions, will not cause pollution of the environment or harm to human health or, in cases where this is not covered by planning permission, serious detriment to the amenities of the locality.

Modification of licence conditions

- A notice of modification under Section 37(1)(b) of the Act can only modify conditions to the extent requested by the applicant. Where other conditions are to be modified or new conditions inserted as a result of the modification, each condition must be justified as being 37(1)(a) or 37(2)(a), and separate notices should be prepared where more than one section is being used.
- Planning permission is not a prerequisite to the issue of a modification notice, however the planning authority's views may be a key element in the determination of whether the modification may cause pollution of the environment, harm to human health or, where relevant, serious detriment to the amenities of the locality.
- Financial provision and technical competence should be in place to address any new obligations expected from the modification application.

Transfer of licence

- The grounds for determination of an application to transfer a licence are solely those that relate to the fit and proper person status of the proposed transferee.

Surrender of licence

- The decision document should indicate whether the condition of the land, in so far as that condition is the result of the use of that land for the treatment, keeping or disposal of waste (whether or not in pursuance of the licence), is likely or unlikely to cause pollution of the environment or harm to human health.

Financial Provision

- Financial provision has been secured in the form of credit checks on the Company. Validation carried out and confirmed by the Regional Finance Department on 13/07/2007. Company have satisfied Agency requirements for Financial Provision.

It has been decided that this application should be granted and WML to be issued.
